These birds without borders
How graceful they fly
These birds without borders
Their songs fill the sky
These birds without borders
Flying with ease
These birds without borders
Fly where they please
These birds without borders
Their limits are none
These birds without borders
Migration's begun

Joshua Stamm
Nikolski
Grades 9 – 12

Hey little Mallard, learn to fly
Do your best, learn to soar high
Join the migration, learn dedication
Over forests and bays, memorize the way
Raise a family, not far from McKinley
When winter arrives, fly to survive
Night or day, remember the way
You're one of the best, leading the rest
Through nature's corridors, crossing all borders
